Fund Centre: a great new feature for Orbit users

Since the start of 2010 we've been working to create a new area for users of our Orbit Benefits technology. This new development significantly expands on the existing fund information, to create the new Fund Centre. This offers a wide range of tools and information which help users make sense of the complicated element of pensions investment.

The new functionality is structured under three main areas:

Video guide

Selecting investment options can be daunting so we've built a video guide for your employees to watch, or download in brochure format. This guide helps employees by giving them background knowledge which should help structure their decision making.

Fund information and ratings

We have significantly expanded the information available; this includes past performance data, industry ratings, fund news relevant to the member's portfolio, new risk profile levels, and revised fund fact sheets.

Portfolio management tools

This allows members to view the effects of combining fund options and the past returns relative to the risk taken.

Existing features such as pension tracking tools, calculator and switching facilities remain, and with the new fund centre it offers your employees further support in understanding, selecting and managing their pension fund.
